I love the looks of that Goldring turntable and can't believe the price. I'd like to hear more about it, so Colin, if you get it, report back. My personal experience with Rega gear has been good, but I'll have to admit that I still like the Technics SL-1200 direct drive tables for the same under $1K price range. I used one of thoe for years, loved it. I like the VPI tables too.
