Subject: Advent Loudspeakers
Posted by Mavare on Wed, 26 May 2010 17:44:54 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have been given a set of Advent Loudspeakers that a friend had in his basement. They don't work right now but I was thinking if I could find someone to work on them, I would take them. They are from around 1968 as far as my friend can remember. Do you think they would be worth salvaging? The cabinets look fantastic if a little dusty. The light colored fabric on the front is even intact and without stains. What do you think? Should I try to get them worked on?