Subject: Re: LSAF 2011
Posted by Wayne Parham on Thu, 12 May 2011 02:55:07 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I sent them an email asking for everyone that has reserved more than one room to make them adjacent rooms at check-in time. It can't be any trouble at all, because both Uriah and Bruce are in rooms that are next to other LSAF exhibitors. All the hotel staff has to do is swap them before check-in, and I told them to do that. No big deal. They're pretty good to us.

The thing I'm a little more concerned about are the folks that have made reservations but that didn't get recorded as being with LSAF. It's OK to do that - no problem getting the room "outside" the LSAF block - but I do want us all grouped together as much as possible. They'll do that if they know the person reserving the room is part of LSAF, but might not if they don't.

I got an email from Scott at Advanced Home Theater saying he was planing to be here. But I don't see him on the list, so I'm wondering where they'll put him. And I don't see Russ Gates listed either, the Polk Audio representative. So I wonder where they'll be and I wonder how many other rooms we have like that.

You always have to make sure Embassy Suites knows you're part of LSAF! It's not just important to get the room rate, it's also important to make sure we're all grouped together. So if you're planning to be here and don't see your name on the list - please be sure to contact the hotel immediately and tell them you're part of LSAF!