Subject: Re: Saturday Night Group Dinner
Posted by Wayne Parham on Sat, 07 May 2011 14:27:32 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I always loved going to dinner with everyone on Saturday night! That is, until Eddie was born. Then we found it was just too much to ask him to sit still through dinner after having him couped up all day. Melissa took him out to do stuff on Saturday afternoon last year, which worked real well. And he's getting older, but I'm not sure he's old enough to resist the ants in his pants yet. We'll see.