Could write up a little piece on the SOHA.Woodwork was all done by hand.  Went the old fashioned route on this one.  Hand sand, hand cut, the whole bit except for the hole drilling and I only have an electric drill.  Hell, man, I can't cut straight with a circular saw!  Always looks like a 3rd grader did it!  My table saw is so old I can never get the blade at 90 deg. or the fence straight.Yeah, ART will have a link on the main page and Pi Speakers will have a link and some pics on the speaker page.If anyone knows of some good demo pics of the wiring layout for a tube amp, I'd be interested.  I'd like to post a pic of what good, clean wiring layout should look like as compared to a not-so-good layout just for comparison.  Then make a few notes about why one is better than the other.
