AudioRoundTable.com would like to welcome our newest sponsor, Crescendo Systems. We're proud to include them here at the Round Table.

Those of you that were at the 2009 Lone Star Audiofest will remember the large electrostatic speakers displayed by Crescendo Systems. I was most impressed by the fact that they sounded good over a fairly wide pattern, not the typical single pinpoint spot that most electrostats do. Another thing is they are DIY panels, which is interesting since there are few DIY electrostat options. There will no doubt be many interesting discussions in the new Crescendo Systems forum, here at ART.

We at AudioRoundTable.com are very pleased to be affiliated with Crescendo Systems.

Welcome Kim. It was an absolute pleasure listening to your setup in Dallas. You were right when you said that the synthesizer, drum tacks, and pipe organ mixed quite well together!!! Surprised me
