In your opinion, why do you think Facebook became more popular than MySpace? Back in the day MySpace had more workable features, like music video's, then Facebook. It was more user friendly with more safety features then Facebook, yet Facebook took off like wildfire. Why?

I am not sure exactly what Facebook had that Myspace didn't. I actually stuck with Myspace for quite awhile after most people had moved to Facebook, and their interface wasbetter. I hate how Facebook is constantly changing junk whether you like it or not.
