The 25,000th post game is moving right along. The game started exactly one week ago and the number of posts was 23032 at that time. Currently, the number of posts is 23402, so 370 posts were made this week. A quick check of the calculator shows that the winning post is projected 4.3 weeks from now.but...You never know because some days there are several posts and some days not as many. We'll just have to wait and see as the time draws near!Have fun!

And I bet most of those posts are coming from Fitz's forum. Has any notices how things are exploding there? Must be over 100 posts last week alone. Congrats on the traffice Bill.

They're really crankin' out those DR horns, aren't they? Looks to me like the Fitzmaurice support forum is a winner!
