Whatever happened to VTV? I think the last issue was; what, last summer? I also noticed the website for Sovtek with all the circuits and schematics is gone? What is going on here?

VTV is still in operation, due to lots of personal growth and improvements in my house, the magazine was put on hold. We are just about finishing up issue #21. Which should be out in March. We are going to a full-page cover with more pages.
