I can make folks cry by playing "The Circle Game" by Joni Mitchell, laugh by playing "Million Dollars" by the BareNaked Ladies, or twist them with some old Leonard Cohen.

There's a 'color' to music, and with it we weave a kaleidascope.

That's a fantastic final statement, very touching. I am like everyone else here, it's impossible to imagine life without music. I am a bit mad that somehow my standby xmas CD for the kids has been scratched.
