I haven't seen many of the newer movies (I actually still prefer traditionally animated films, or at least 2D in general), but I think Wall-E was a cute movie. The others don't seem too bad either, I'll have to watch more of them. I love the classic Disney movies like Bambi and such, but especially the 90s films such as The Lion King (probably my favorite Disney movie), The Little Mermaid, etc. I also like Don Bluth films and films by Universal Studios. They don't make movies like those anymore, which makes me really sad.
