Subject: Looking for a pair of empty 7 Pi-pro corner cabinets

After talking to Wayne about some rough-cut 7 Pi cabinets, he suggested I post and ask the masses.I am not interested in putting a horn in these, they will not be anything but used with the JBL 2226 for possible sub use with my Edgarhorns.I am not looking for furniture grade quality, but some mechanically sound units that I can apply stain and finish to later. Basically that is because I am limited on funds that I can spend on this project.I am located in Ohio, so shipping costs would be a item. I would like to find a pair within a short drive if possible.Would appreciate any leads that come up. Hopefully I can find a pair and make things happen after the holidays.Thanks, Ron

I guess it is too far of a reach to think anyone would have these laying around gathering dust. Just thought I would try though!!!Happy Thanksgiving to everyone, especially Wayne and Alona!!!!Ron
