Could you speak up please?

I have a little loss in my left ear, but other then that I'm good.I don't why either because if the right side is good, shouldn't the left be also?

Oh well, one of those things I guess.

If your left eardrum or inner ear was damaged, but your right wasn't, that could easily explain greater loss in one ear. I am not sure but believe unequal hearing is more common than not.
