

---

Subject: How Did They Do This?

Posted by Azuri on Thu, 16 May 2013 20:52:40 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I found a video not too long ago, an instrumental version of the old Stones song "Let it Loose". The instrumental version was cool enough, but what the maker of the video did was morph images together of Keith Richards. The images blended perfectly together. How exactly does one do this?

---

---

Subject: Re: How Did They Do This?

Posted by gofar99 on Fri, 17 May 2013 03:19:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Hi There is lots of good software out there that can do that. Commercial studios do it all the time. Watching things like current TV commercials (I try not to, but they sneak up on you) it may be hard to find any that do not morph audio and video portions.

---