This is probably a stupid question but I'll ask anyway. Do you think software like this be used for CD quality sound? How about SACD quality?

CD quality is sampled at 16-bits / 44.1kHz. So long as the music is ripped from the original CD, modified, and burned back on the CD-R at this quality, sound quality should not degrade.Can't remember off the top of my head the sampling rate of SACD.Gar.
