It would be interesting to see in one place a list of all the companies offering line array kits, and in what price ranges. The ones I'm familiar with are GR Research (Alpha LS, about $2,000), Creative Sound Solutions (Needles, about $1,000), and Selah Audio (several kits ranging from the Linus 2 at $900 to the Omegarray at $3,200, or $4,100 with powered subs). Are there any others?http://fredt300b.smugmug.com/gallery/132721/1/4831163

You're ahead of me 'cause I only know of two companies that make array kits. The two I know of are the offerings from Selah Audio and Bottlehead, and you've already mentioned both. So I'm no help here, but I will provide links:Selah Audio, Jim Griffin and Rick CraigBottlehead Straight 8, Dan Schmalle and Paul Joppa

GR Research is located in Iowa Park, TX (a suburb of Wichita) and offers the Alpha LS, a line array consisting of nine proprietary-brand 6.5" woofers and eight BG Neo 8 tweeters. The website is http://www.gr-research.com/
