Even though we don't use it a lot, my family owns a Pioneer turntable PLX-100. The metal frame gives a cool look with user-friendly control layout, and good sound quality. Do you have a turntable at home?

Hi, I have 5. A Dual 701 on a custom plinth with Jelco tonearm, an Empire 598 with an Origin Live arm, a Sota Moonbeam with a Jelco arm, a Pro-ject DB III with an Origin Live arm and a Philips GA212. The first two are in my main system, the Sota in my computer area and the others are presently in storage. The first three get regular use.

I used to love Technics direct drive models. Still do, truth be told. But for years, I've been running a Rega table. Been lusting after a VPI.
