Which country would you say is producing the best audio equipment at the moment?Is one country leading the field? Or does it just depend on the make?

I think it completely depnds on the design & model of the piece you are talking about. Typically the USA & W. Germany/northern Europe produce teh most EXPENSIVe equipment...whether that translates to best is in the ears of the listener. -akhilesh

Right. It doesn't surprise me that the USA and northern Europe produce the most expensive, as costs will be higher there.
