I was watching America's Funniest Videos and some of the videos had face switching. Like a dog's face was on it's owner's head and vice versa. Or a baby's face was on the parent's head. It was a hoot and I want in on it. What type of software did they use to make it happen?

They probably just used Photoshop. Maybe Pixelator. This is the next big thing on the internet right now so you can find thousands of sites that will teach you how to face-swap step by step.
