

---

Subject: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Wayne Parham on Mon, 09 Oct 2023 14:50:05 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I know you don't really need my prayers over there - you need bombs for Gaza. But I see you're into action there and I have every confidence in your warfighters.

Just wanted to say most of us here in America are 100% behind you in Israel.

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Rusty on Mon, 09 Oct 2023 16:30:27 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

As usual, I'm the contrarian here. I'm sorry for the latest breakout of violence. Our world just can't seem to get along together. Israel is considered by the UN as an apartheid state. Their blockade will now be cutting off everything, including food and water, electricity. That's medieval. They've been squeezing the Palestinians since the formation of Israel. Taking their land and means to make a living. Like the Irish in Northern Ireland, this fight is portrayed as a religious war. But both examples determined as stemming from colonialism. Occupy, take, grab. Like we did to the American Indians.

I'll pray it all ends soon for the sake of killing on both sides. Just like in Ukraine.

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Wayne Parham on Mon, 09 Oct 2023 20:22:43 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I agree with you about being sorry for the breakout of violence. And I understand the length of the conflict - literally thousands of years old - and the added difficulties after Israel re-acquired their land in 1948. Some might say that differently, that they became a nation or other ways, and I'm not debating semantics. I just can see how difficult that all must have been and how it would have exacerbated tensions in that region.

I also agree with you that I hope somehow the sides will agree to forgive one-another and stop warring. But I also know that's easy to say from an armchair several thousand miles away. I do not mean to diminish anyone's pain or their reasons for resentments. I just would wish for compassion and humanity.

I'm definitely not a Muslim-basher. It's not religion that gets the trouble started - In my opinion, it's the lack of it. To me, the Hebrew, the Christians and the Muslims are all monotheistic Mesopotamians and I can identify with each of them.

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel
Posted by noodle on Mon, 23 Oct 2023 17:14:37 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Not surprisingly, there seem to be generation differences regarding views of the conflict.

<https://news.gallup.com/opinion/gallup/472796/young-adults-views-middle-east-changing.aspx>
<https://www.kqed.org/news/11964499/new-poll-shows-strong-american-support-for-israel-amid-generational-racial-divides>

I'm projecting that Gen Z, on its own, would show starker numbers than the rest. Pray for peace.

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel
Posted by Rusty on Tue, 24 Oct 2023 11:54:38 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Every time the Palestinians break out of their detention zone and commit their generational rage against Israel's Apartheid state. They are punished with impunity. The death toll in Gaza now is estimated over 5000, probably much more with the bodies eventually found in collapsed buildings. The Israeli's want to wipeout Hamas. Eradicate them. I don't think that is possible. They'll be degraded for sure. But the resentment and bitterness they endure, daily over the years will reform angry young men to fight against their oppressors.

The political regime in Israel now is incapable of reasoning for peace and making any concessions. I've read that isn't the consensus of many Israeli's though. I can only hope that their leader can be once again tossed out and his like minded cabinet members and eventually, more reasonable minds put in place there. It's been a travesty for too long in that part of the world.

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel
Posted by johnnycamp5 on Sun, 19 Nov 2023 14:28:08 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

+1 Prayers for Israel

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel
Posted by Rusty on Mon, 20 Nov 2023 12:32:58 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I like to get a broader perspective on world events other than what you can glean from corporate news media. Which usually is as in-depth as a kiddie wading pool. An interesting article on America's standards for geopolitical behavior. Calling it, rules based international order. Over the years this has become controversial in that it tends to be two faced. When it runs up against international law, the RBIO can be manipulated to justify our strategic stance.

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Rusty on Thu, 21 Dec 2023 12:32:30 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Have you no decency? The close of John Mearsheimer's substack article on the Gaza genocide. All with our government's blessings. Unyielding support of Netanyahu's ethnic cleansing, genocidal killing of innocent people. Mainly women and children according to UN statistics. It seems that our foreign policy since the end of WWII has been nothing but sleazy subversive regime change and warmongering amounting to dubious outcomes and huge expenditures of blood and treasure. And collateral damage throughout the world. If that's spreading democracy and good will then I'd hate to imagine what malevolent intent might be.

<https://mearsheimer.substack.com/p/death-and-destruction-in-gaza>

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Rusty on Fri, 12 Jan 2024 12:40:15 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I commend South Africa with its World Court case for Israel's long standing apartheid and current genocide against the Palestinians. It takes one to know one. South Africa's apartheid was finally vanquished in the early 90's. Since then they have joined the BRICS coalition to counter our dollar dominant perversion with sanctioning and trade entitlement. And now they're speaking out about the obvious and doing something that a majority of the world can't get done in the U.N. because of the US veto power.

It won't be enforceable, but it carries a statement of condemnation to a current regime that is not virtuous. Quite the opposite.

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Rusty on Fri, 01 Mar 2024 16:50:03 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I have to speak out again in this thread of the total perversion that Israel is perpetrating on the people of Palestinian heritage. It's barbaric and brutal. The latest is the deliberate massacre of desperate, starving people lured to aid trucks to shoot at by the Israeli IDF. The trucks were not UN sponsored. As if starving a populous isn't reason enough for the World Courts ruling on their genocide behavior.

---

All the while our government keeps sending them implements of warfare to accomplish what their perverted leadership ulterior motives are. Ridding all Palestinians once and for all. SICK!

The victim becomes the perpetrator. As childhood violence begets a cycle of violence. The Israeli's behave as the Nazi's did to them.

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Rusty on Thu, 28 Mar 2024 17:28:35 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Once again our marked deck of rules based diplomacy rears it's very ugly head. Our country has lost itself in it's selfish attempt to remain the dominant alpha dog. The rest of the pack is deserting and we stand out like an obscene gesture to world law and rules. We've got our own rules, and they supersede everything else. Like our economic doctrine, our diplomacy follows lock step. Fraudulent and debauched. Sad.

<https://www.moonofalabama.org/2024/03/at-the-un-it-is-a-rogue-us-against-the-rest-of-the-world.html#more>

---

---

Subject: Re: Prayers for Israel

Posted by Rusty on Sun, 21 Apr 2024 19:15:42 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

I for one maybe here have nothing but condemnation for Israel. And the country I live. For our country's majority of the legislative body and current administration supports mass murder. There's no other way to describe what's going on. Saying Israel has a right to defend itself now is an assault on ones consciousness. But you'll hear that evoked by our diplomatic stooges, over and over.

Really though, that's been Israel's policy from the get go. A land without people for a people without a land. Since Great Britain and the US formed the state after WWII. The Zionist phrase has stood and now the final solution is being carried out. Ridding the Palestinians. The United States will oblige this as there is no two state solution in Israel. Which is why the US vetoed the UN resolution for it. And every other resolution condemning Israel. Part of our rules based diplomacy based on our own rules we carry out as a matter of routine. Kind of a catch 22. Maddeningly circular reasoning. Because we can.

The United States has considered Israel its, "Land based aircraft carrier" since its formation. For having a foot hold on control of Middle Eastern oil and the shipping trade from the Suez canal. Part of our imperialist national security network throughout the world.

Israel got a sobering taste of how its Arab neighborhood feels from provoking Iran and the north of Israel is uninhabitable from the danger of Hezbollah bombarding it from Syria. The razors edge for the US is whether Israel will do something really stupid to bring a whole theater of war to the region. That's the price you pay for being the imperialist alpha country in the world.

It's a scary Nostradamus thought.

---