Got the new SACD playing REALLY loud. Hope the neighbors like the Police so they don't call the cops. Got me one of those SONY dvp-ns755v SACD/DVD players to replace my nasty, noisy Pioneer DV-525. Sounds good but a little lightweight. Needs some SACDMods.com work. Wish I had that $20,000 Accuphase machine in the Classic Audio room! This CD is really high energy good music. Dig It.

I really dug some of their old stuff from their first few albums. Their later music was probably great too, I just sort of stopped following them much after Sting started doing solo work. Now that I think about it, they may have disbanded about that time, in the early eighties. I dunno. But the Police had an interesting sound, and Sting is a great musician.
