I read so many comments from sellers of amps but cannot seem to find the correct info just commentary. I have front loaded horns and what I am told is that low watted amps are best, Ok...and SET is better than Push pull? I do like my 2A3 over my fisher and pilot el-84 which seem veiled to muddy in comparison...But I would like 8-12 watts as some extra power helds very dymanic classical music. Like the Wright mono's 8wpc mono's or Audio Note intergrated 300b--others say the 300b is close to a 2A3 but will not have strong base ??? Looking at a JAS 2.3 using (new tube to me!) 6C33-- very simple design -- good for horns ?? any info would be welcome Jim
