That does sound interesting, I'll have to check it out. I wonder if it's maybe along the same lines as the Selectronic ProFet amp. The Profet is one seriously nice sounding amp. I'll take one to GPAF, and maybe Eric will send one of their preamps to go with it. So if you can come to GPAF, we'll plan on letting you spend some time with it. If you can't make it, maybe I should send it to you later just to check it out. It's really nice.
