Hi Everyone, My first "high end" single-ended tube amp continues to be my reference: the zen se84C, got for $500. I have heard (and owned) several push pulls, as well as listened to one DIY 2a3 SET. I like the ZEN still. Very uncolored, analytical enough without being too etched, and enough power for my speakers ( all of them are 95 db +). Anyone have opinions on the ZEN with other amps they may have heard, I would love to hear them. I have never heard a 300B for example. -akhilesh
