Like many others, I am very intrested in Decwares Zen amp. I currently own a (swedish) Edison 300b amp with wonderful sound quality, lots of air in the mids and highs I can assure you! But maybe, just maybe I am missing out on something. Surely someone has auditioned 300b's as well as a zen. Sadly, my speakers are not all that efficient, around 93db. What do you guys think I'm missing without the zen? It would be wonderful to be able to audition a zen to find out, unfortunately I haven't heard of anyone in Sweden getting one. My biggest fear really is that I'd have to get two of them to get enough power. And then the price gets a bit out of my league. Cheers, Peter
