Mark's Kit 4 sure sounds nice. He has an assortment of tubes, and I believe I heard what he thought were the best set. I'm anxious to hear the Conquest too; We'll hear it either this meeting or next. There is quite a buzz on many different levels right now. Lots of people are talking about coming and bringing their equipment, some that are manufacturers or dealers representing a particular product. We may have to roll this into a spring or summer event. It's getting really cool...
