Don't know if Meetup will work for small groups. It firstcame to my attention reading about political campaigns. Would be a good place to go if all the various forumscould get in on it. Wayne, I'd suggest as a followup that at some point thesuggestion be made that all the forums include some sort of link to Meetup in the same way that sites have subscribed to google. I'd have a hard time doing that as an individual. As you know, I've been trying to contact the WisconsinDIY community myself.
