NO! for $8500 I'll just replace vinyle...even at absurd blue note prices, it wouldn't be a problem with that kind of cash to shop with. Anyone who would spend 8500 on a tone arm is a clear example of "a fool and his money" or an example of one who has too much of it in my book. Of course, this is just my opinion. You can buy a nice used car for 8500, and a damn nice ENTIRE stereo system. My 70's vintage black widow tonearm, which I paid all of 50 bucks for is probably 80 percent of that arm (at least on my setup) I can buy a lot of vinyle for 8450 bucks! Clearly, I can not afford a 8500 arm, and if I bought it, my friends would put me in a home for the befuddled. Russellc
