Note I said most. There are exceptions of course. But most of the reissues I have heard sound better than the originals I have also heard. The below web site discusses reissues in particular, classical reissues. I find the entire web site very interesting. I agree with almost all of this guys picks as the best recordings. I own quite a few of them. His stuff on the audio Magazines is also very interesting. Again IMO. I have absolutely no connection with the web site or the people mentioned.
