
Subject: another question about my pitch control issue
Posted by sanspolanco on Fri, 08 Jul 2005 16:51:50 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

here is something i find odd: as the record plays on and the strobe marking starts to drift, when i adjust it and make the reading steady, i cant tell a difference in sound. should i then worry about this problem? is there a level of pitch variation that just can't be noticed? the other thing that is odd is that sometimes its the drifting slows down and then picks up. could it be that the strobe is not maintaining its time correctly?-sjp
