So; thats who does that song! Hypnotizing chicken's; can't beat it with a stick. On Mott St. across from Wu Hopps there used to be a little amusement area and outside the large garage opening there was a big red sign that said, "World Famous Dancing Chicken!!", Inside for 25c there was a chicken in a glass box; when you placed a quarter in the slot a trap door would open and the chicken would walk out to get some feed and zap! he would get a little shock that would cause him to jitter his feet like he was dancing. I must have put 50$ in that box over the years. Yes; it was different chickens. Why 20 years; is that an anniversary? Out of all things I miss; that is the one, a good bottle of single malt.
