Subject: Re: Trying to figure out adjustment on an old JVC
Posted by Mike T on Wed, 10 Jan 2007 03:33:56 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Well, I got it to play a little better, but it's got a huge hum. I tried grounding it, that didn't work. It doesn't do it if I remove the cartridge. Tried another cartridge, same thing. I think I'll try and find something a little better, because it could take forever to find the source of that noise. It's louder on the right channel than the left.