I do not know a lot about speakers or anything too much to do with audio but i was hoping someone could help me with a questions i have. I am a college student looking to buy some speakers for my house next year. I plan on spening hopefully less than 300$ on speakers. I am mostly just looking for a set of speakers that i can kinda abuse and just bump really loud at partys. My questions is really, what is the difference between florr standing speakers and DJ speakers? What is the sound difference, is DJ speakers only good for music? Any info would be helpfull.Thanks
