
Subject: Re: Censorship

Posted by akhilesh on Wed, 13 Apr 2005 17:57:57 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There are rules and then there is etiquette. Criticizing a product is fine, but getting excessively personal or hyperbolic is not in very good taste. I for one hang out here because of the good taste. Does this make sense? For an example of criticizing a product in good taste, please see the following post in the same forum:
<http://audioundtable.com/SingleDriverSpeakers/messages/1213.htmlthanks-akhilesh>
Example of a criticism in good taste and not offensive.
