

---

Subject: Re: I've got some a great deal on some left over speakers...

Posted by wunhuanglo on Sat, 08 Jan 2005 17:04:02 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Actually, I bet it's very profitable. First of all, it's all cash which really lowers the tax liability. Secondly, I've seen raw cost numbers like $100 per pair. If you spend a couple of dollars on truck decals and brochures with phony reviews, maybe you're looking at $110 per pair, tops. A few bucks for gas and you might sell two pairs in a day, maybe $600 per pair. That's a gross of over $300K per year for a couple of fast-talking high school drop-outs. Not too shabby.

---