Subject: Re: I did it ! What did I do??? Posted by hurdy_gurdyman on Tue, 13 Jan 2004 03:26:40 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

In my opinion, it's not as important if you have flat response or not, as it is how you achieved that flat response. If you made aterations to the speakers or the signal that causes phase problems or dynamics problems, you may have lost more then you gained in achieving that flat response. There are other things that can affect the music more then not having a perfectly flat responce, IMHO.Dave :^)

Page 1 of 1 ---- Generated from AudioRoundTable.com