But I will admit to; upon hearing the tones of bass fiddle flattened out by cheap electronics even from another room it does get irritating. My problem/freedom is, that I don't hear instruments live very often, more likely to hear DJs spinning vinyl through QSC power amps into cheaply filtered HF horns and 15" midbass! I don't know if it's good or bad, I can just adjust my soundsystem til I think it's best, without any reference! Cheers Mike.e
