Can I download plans on the internet or get them directly from you? What woofers does it use?One of my techs tells me that we need woofers with a Faraday ring for best sound. He says the harmonics from deep bass are in the midbass and that's where the horn is most efficient. That's one reason why there is bass bloat I hear from some horn speakers. I'm also told we have to use enough horns for the room to make mouth size right, so we'll make sure to do that too. We need the efficiency but don't want the bloat, so I want to use a good woofer. What do you think? Got woofers?
