Brad, Yeah, noticed the Publisher stuff in the viewer's help files whilst playing around with it after my post. You're not wrong about a great viewer - works well for sharing this sort of info. Will have to give it a try with my Autocad files. BTW great presentation and layout on your new Labsub pages. Very nice. Might I suggest an index on the first page to avoid having to go through each page? Have you had the chance to do listening tests on your sub yet? Cheers Graeme
