Thanks for the interest. I Hope not to be too comercial here, but you asked. The manufactur of these systems is in its infancy. I have no dealers yet and the only places that they exist are in private homes - some of which are available for audition. My is the easiest for you, here in Ann Arbor. You are welcome to audition them at my home. They are in an ideal setting, a room that I designed and built. The other location will be in New Orleans. I am building those speakers now and will deliver them on February 19th. Anyone interested in hearing them there or participating is a subjective evaluation on February 20th should let me know.
