These are the issues ive started looking at recently,and for these reasons Im wanting to build a horn loaded system,with HF horn,15" midbass and perhaps a matching 300hz-2khz midrange rectangular mouth horn,cone driven.Question: Why have some many,for so long aimed for this omnidirectional source ?Another reason I want less room interaction,is because the electronica music I tend to listen to,I enjoy it so much more on headphones and I think this is why.RegardsMike.e
