These are the issues ive started looking at recently, and for these reasons Im wanting to build a horn loaded system, with HF horn, 15" midbass and perhaps a matching 300hz-2khz midrange rectangular mouth horn, cone driven. Question: Why have some many, for so long aimed for this omnidirectional source? Another reason I want less room interaction, is because the electronic music I tend to listen to, I enjoy it so much more on headphones and I think this is why. Regards Mike.e
