Subject: Best of both worlds Posted by wunhuanglo on Thu, 03 Mar 2005 08:30:12 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Tubes do, in my experience, produce euphonic coloration that can be very appealing. At the same, time tube amps are a megabuck experience if you need anything greater than modest power output (and lately even some mini-watt amps cost as much as a new car). In the past I've run a tub pre-amp with a sand power amp - the result is the "tube sound" without the high $/watt penalty.

Page 1 of 1 ---- Generated from AudioRoundTable.com