Hi Gar,Thanks, Those speakers are special built small and light. I'm looking to shave a few more pounds with a neo mid driver. The one that is in them weighs more than the woofer. Lots of sound from that little package. thanks again. I'll try and leak any news on the swap meet forum.As far as compression drivers. I first noticed I liked the sound and performance of the neo magnet driver over ceramic with compression drivers. so the answer is yes. I recommend only the neo compression drivers. I'm making some 4x10 guitar cabs for the boys using neo speakers. Actually making 4 units 2 x 10 with 1/2" baltic ply and the whole thing will stack and lock into a full stack. 4 nice lightweight parts that will fit into a lot of places and easy to carry around.
