Subject: Horn tweeter choice question
Posted by Eric J on Fri, 13 May 2005 18:06:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I need to look at tweeter horns with published frequency/db responses that are pretty flat to 20K. My price range is really no more than $40 per tweeter. At the moment I am looking at the Eminence APT's with either the 80 degree conical lens or the rectangular horn lens, or the Fostex 100HT. Does anybody have any experience with these? And does anybody know of any others within my price range, that also have published frequency curves. CD horns are OK. I will have the equalization necessary with the electronic crossover on the Behringer CX3400. kind regards, eric j.