That's a nice offer; one I will take you up on in the future. The cool thing about these horns is that Dr. Edgar signed each, so I suspect he has a pretty good idea which driver is best suited for these. Right now I think Ron is going to help me get a pair of Altec A7s up and running. This should keep me busy for a little while, but I must get a pair of Pi's. I have put this off too long. Oh yeah, as soon as I get that done I've got to jump back on the Group Build and get an amp done. Shit, then there's the basement to finish, complete with dedicated music room.....Colin
