It makes me feel good to get others "hooked" in this hobby of tubes and horns. I still have way too much in my house and garage and encourage others to come and get some free cabinets and build your own. Yesterday when Colin came over for the A7 VOTT cabinets I actually saw some things that I forgot about in my garage. LOL Need some other folks to drive to Columbus, Ohio for a visit and help me unload some more cabinets. My end goal is to be able to use my basement for my audio system, instead of my tiny living room. Ron
