Subject: Re: eminence beta12CX
Posted by DanTheMan on Wed, 18 Jan 2006 19:07:30 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

the thing i found most inpressive about them was the way that every instrument sounds like it does in the real world--meaning that they have the proper weight and balance. The treble doesn't seem artificially inflated and pronounced. They retain their dynamics at high volumes--louder than I'll ever need. They just sound natural and coherent, but they cost too much money for me to afford.