Hi Colin! Well Bill and I have talked about a 45 project with direct coupled driver and parafeed output. This sounds like fun, but takes a serious chunk of cash to get started - at least for good iron. So I'm not sure either of us has moved fully out of design and into purchase stage yet, but maybe soon. As far as a WSOTT meeting, that would be great. In June best time for me is early in the month or late in the month due to travel (Cancun and Palm Springs)....
