
Subject: And I Forgot to Mention

Posted by FredT on Mon, 26 Jun 2006 21:53:45 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I was so impressed by the improvements this wall plate made to the sound of my system I borrowed my dad's Bose Wave Radio, placed it on the equipment stand, plugged it directly into the wall receptacle, and put a CD on. The Bose plugged into the wall plate actually sounds better than the high end system without the wall plate. Both high and low extension, linearity, and dynamics far exceed the three Pi Theater system. Looks like I'll be selling my Audio Mirror amps, Lite Audio DAC-60, and Pi speakers. Also, in addition to making cheap box wine taste like a $100 bottle it improved the gas mileage on my car, and my bad knee isn't hurting as much either when the weather changes.
